JANUARY 2023

Convivial Conversation and Cuisine for Williams Faculty, Staff and Community Members

Board Corner

Dear Faculty Club Members,

Happy New Year! Here's hoping that you all had a great holiday season!

December 2022 offered some delicious lunch buffets, a very well attended Friendly Friday, and an informative talk with journalist James Brooke who led a crowd of 26 through his experiences and insight into the war in the Ukraine.

Participants were attentive and asked some very smart questions. Now for what is coming up in 2023 at the Faculty Club.

There is no Friendly Friday in January, but we look forward to hosting Provost Eiko Siniawer on Friday, January 13th—see details below.

On Friday, February 3rd, 4:30 pm - 6:30 pm we will host the first Friendly Friday of 2023!

Saturday, February 11th is our premier event, Cupid's Culinary Feast. As usual, Dining Services staff will be preparing delicious fare, which is being offered at an exceptional value for Faculty Club members.

Keep an eye out for future club events, and if you haven't filled out the survey we sent last month, please do. The board is very interested in what programs you would like in the coming months!

We would not be able to offer events without the support of our community members, so thank you! The hard truth is that this funding is very limited, so the board must continue to look for ways to remain sustainable in the coming years. We are committed to moving forward as an entity with the goal of supplying valuable engagement to the Williams' community.

Warm wishes,

Alison
